PLEASE READ

This book is a faith-based companion for reflection and practice. It is not medical, mental-health, legal, or addiction-treatment advice, and it does not replace a doctor, therapist, counselor, pastor, or emergency services. The author is not a licensed clinician. Prayer belongs beside — not in place of — treatment, medication, safe housing, and safety planning.

YOUR SAFETY COMES FIRST

If you are in danger, call 911 (or your local emergency number). If you are thinking about ending your life, call or text 988 (U.S.). If you are physically dependent on alcohol, benzodiazepines, or barbiturates, do not stop suddenly without medical supervision — withdrawal can be dangerous. The resource page at the back of the book lists additional help. Phone numbers and services change; please confirm them before you rely on them.

ABOUT THE STORIES AND IDEAS

Personal testimony is shared as lived experience, not as a formula or a promise of any outcome. Interpretations of Scripture are labeled as interpretation and offered for you to test against the Bible and with wise, trusted people. Nothing in this book guarantees healing, deliverance, income, or any particular result.

BECOMING HER · DAYS 85–90

Stewarding what you have learned.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

How to Read This Book

I am not a doctor, therapist, or pastor. I am a survivor who is still building, reaching back with what I have learned, what Scripture actually teaches, and something practical you can use. Four kinds of writing share these pages, and I want you to know which is which:

WHAT SCRIPTURE SAYS

Verses are quoted or cited by reference and read in context. Unless noted, quotations are from the ESV. When the Bible is clear, these pages say so plainly.

MY TESTIMONY

Places where I am sharing what I lived and what I am still learning. It is one woman's experience — not a rule for yours, and not a finished recovery story.

INTERPRETATION AND PRACTICE

Pictures like doors, contracts, stages, and seasons are ways of seeing and tools to practice with. Christians hold different views on some of them. Test them; keep what helps.

SYMBOL AND IMAGE

Broken chains, vineyards, anchors, and re-ups are pictures of freedom and renewal. A page of writing can help you practice something new. It does not, by itself, break a curse or change God's mind.

A FEW HONEST GROUND RULES

- You can skip any exercise. You can keep your eyes open. You can use a different anchor — a cold glass of water, your feet on the floor, a hand on a pet. You never have to relive something to complete a page.
- Prayers here are conversations with God, not formulas. Saying words out loud helps many people mean them; it does not force anything.
- Not every struggle is spiritual, and not every hard day is an attack. Sleep, food, pain, grief, and old wounds are real too. Sort them out with people who know you.
- Forgiving someone is not the same as trusting them again. Boundaries protect; they are not punishment. A relapse does not make you disposable.
- If a page opens more than you can carry, stop. Reach for a safe person or one of the numbers at the back. The page will wait.

ONE PATH, FOUR BOOKS

Your 90-Day Path

These books were built to be used together. Day 7 in the journal is Day 7 in Ninety Days of Standing and Day 7 in *Ninety Days of Coming Home, and each day names the Workbook section and Volume II chapter that go with it. You do not have to read everything every day. Do the journal page; read the Standing spread; dip into the Workbook or Volume II when a day points you there.

Days	Journal arc	Standing focus	Coming Home stage	Workbook	Volume II
1–10	Telling the Truth	The war underneath: childhood, body, secrecy, a date	Build Her a Safe Place	Part I · Part V Steps 1–3	Ch. 1, 10, 17 · Steps 1–2
11–20	The Lies and the Names	Lies, names, and a mother's moral injury	Meet Her at the Doorway	1.5–1.6 · 4.3–4.4	Ch. 10, 12, 48 · Step 31
21–30	The Realm and Your Authority	Warfare, plainly: sorting, standing, forgiving	Stand Guard for Her	Part II	Ch. 1, 11, 15, 17 · Steps 8–10
31–45	The Contracts	Vows, words, ties, the cistern, wanting out	Release What She Promised	2.4–2.6	Ch. 2–6 · Steps 13–15
46–55	The Bloodline	Family patterns and the nursery	Show Her Her Family Line	Part VI	Ch. 8–9 · Steps 16, 26
56–68	The Playbook and the Structure	Patterns, cravings, daily structure, boundaries, falling	Build Her a House	Part V Steps 4–8	Ch. 12–18 · Steps 23–29
69–76	God	Where He was, honest anger, silence	Where Was Jesus?	3.3 · 7.6	Ch. 19–27
77–84	Brandi and Letting Go	Grief, guilt, children out of reach, release	Say Goodbye and Hello	Part VII	Ch. 38–42 · Step 30
85–90	Becoming Her	Stewarding what you have learned	Meet the New You	Part III	Ch. 28–34, 46–52 · Step 32

A SIMPLE DAILY RHYTHM (ABOUT 25 MINUTES)

- Journal page: read it, write on the lines, say the declaration.
- Standing spread: optional grounding, Scripture, reflection, one soft action, a prayer.
- Coming Home page: one step toward the child you were, a prayer, an affirmation, and a small challenge.
- Workbook or Volume II: only when the day points you there, and only as much as you can hold.
- Missed a day? Pick the page back up. The pace is the point, and the identity is in the rising.

Spiritual Warfare, Plainly

I want to be careful with this language, because it has been used on people who needed help, not hype. So here is what I stand on.

What Scripture says

There is a real adversary: a liar, an accuser, a thief (John 10:10; Revelation 12:10; 1 Peter 5:8). He is a created being, limited by God (Job 1–2), and already defeated at the cross (Colossians 2:15; 1 John 3:8). Our part is to submit to God, resist the devil, stand firm in the armor God gives, answer lies with what is written (as Jesus did in Matthew 4), and pray (James 4:7; Ephesians 6:10–18).

What Scripture does not say

It does not hand us a formula. In Acts 19:13–16, men tried to use Jesus’ name like a tool and were beaten. It does not say every problem is demonic. It does not say we should shout or boast about authority; Jesus told His disciples to rejoice not that spirits submit to them but that their names are written in heaven (Luke 10:20), and even the archangel Michael did not presume to rebuke the devil on his own (Jude 9). It does not say a child’s struggle is a spirit, or that words on a page break a curse.

How this book uses the word “warfare”

Here, warfare means refusing to agree with lies, standing in Christ, and doing the ordinary faithful things together with practical care: sleep, food, doctors, counselors, safety, honest friends, and prayer. Test every spirit (1 John 4:1). If something makes you more ashamed, more isolated, or more afraid, it is not from Him.

Where I offer a picture (doors, agreements, stages) it is interpretation. Scripture is the authority; the pictures are tools.

A Word to Mothers

This book is for anyone who mothers or has been mothered: raising children, grieving them, separated from them, fostering, adopting, stepping in, pregnant, hoping to be, or healing from your own mother. It is also for women with no children who are still carrying what motherhood meant in their house.

What I will not do

I will not promise how your children will turn out. Proverbs 22:6 is a proverb about wisdom, not a guarantee, and every child makes choices. I will not tell you that your child is cursed, demonic, or being punished for your past. I will not tell you to stay somewhere unsafe, and I will not use guilt to pressure you.

What I will do

Put safety first. Name the grief and the guilt without making them your identity. Point toward real help: doctors, counselors, treatment programs that welcome mothers, legal aid, advocates. Be honest that fear of losing your children keeps many mothers from getting help, and that hiding usually makes it worse while support usually helps. Hold hope without guarantees.

Right now

If a child is in danger, call 911. Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline: 1-800-422-4453. If you are thinking about hurting yourself or your child, call or text 988 now. Postpartum Support International: 1-800-944-4773. National Maternal Mental Health Hotline: 1-833-852-6262. (Please confirm numbers before relying on them.)

HOW IT WORKS

How to Use This Book

1. One spread a day. The left page is grounding, Scripture, and teaching. The right page is reflection, one soft action, and a prayer.
2. Same day, same theme. Day N here pairs with Journal Day N and names the Workbook section and Volume II chapter to read with it.
3. Grounding is optional. Skip it, change it, or keep your eyes open. Use another anchor if that one does not work for you.
4. Write on the lines. You never have to write the story. Titles and single sentences are enough.
5. One soft action. Small enough to do on a bad day. Doing less is allowed. Doing it is the point.
6. Not every day will fit your life. If you are not a mother, read “my kids” as the people you are responsible for, or the child you were.
7. Stop when it is too much. Reach for a safe person or a number in the back. The page will wait.

ARC 1 · DAYS 1-10

Telling the Truth

The war underneath: childhood, body, secrecy, a date.

THE HOLY R3UP · NINETY DAYS OF STANDING

CHILDHOOD · WARFARE

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Feel your feet on the floor. Keep your eyes open. Lord, You were here before I said anything.

EPHESIANS 6:12 · ESV

You were born into a fight before you had words for it. Scripture says the struggle is real and not only flesh and blood, and Jesus names the thief's work plainly: to steal, kill, and destroy (John 10:10). That does not mean every person who hurt you was a puppet, and it does not mean every hard thing is a demon. It means what was done to you was never God's will, and you are allowed to stand against it. Warfare, at its root, is refusing to agree that harm is normal.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What did I learn as a child about whether the world was safe?

2. Where do I see that fight still running in my home, my body, or my mothering?

3. What would it change to believe the harm was never God's plan for me?

SOFT ACTION

Write one sentence that starts, "What happened to me was not okay because..." Say it out loud once.

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, I did not choose the war I was born into, but I choose to stand with You in it. Name the harm as harm. Be near me while I look at it. Amen.

What was done to me was wrong, and God was never on its side.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

WARFARE · ADDICTION · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

"But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin."

1 JOHN 1:7 · ESV

Secrecy is not strength. It is where shame grows. For a mother, the secret is often what kind of mother am I, with the substance, the past, the temper, the numbness. For a daughter, it is what happened in the house. Light is not exposure for its own sake. It is one safe person who will not panic, gossip, or use it against you. Warfare begins small: telling the truth to one human being, and watching what happens to the fear.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

1. What am I most afraid people would think of me as a mother, a daughter, or a woman?

Name your one person and pick a day this week. You do not have to tell it all. Start with one true sentence.

Father, I have kept this in the dark to survive. Give me one safe person and the courage to say one true thing. Meet me in the room. Amen.

I do not have to carry this alone, and I do not have to carry it in secret.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

MOTHERHOOD · ADDICTION · CHILDHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Name three things you can see and one thing you can hear. Father, meet me exactly where I am.

"For I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate."

ROMANS 7:15 · ESV

Some of what happened to you was not your fault. Some of what you did afterward was. Both are true. Paul, who wrote Romans 7, knew the war inside himself. For mothers this is the hardest page: the harm you took in, and the harm that may have landed on your own children. Holding only the first makes you a permanent victim. Holding only the second makes you your own warden. You need both hands to carry this, and you do not have to carry it on your own.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What was done to me that was never mine to carry?

Handwriting lines for reflection 1.

2. What did I do that was mine to own, and who did it touch?

Handwriting lines for reflection 2.

3. What do I want to say to the part of me that is stuck in only one column?

Handwriting lines for reflection 3.

SOFT ACTION

On a sheet of paper make two columns: "Done to me" and "My part." Fill in one line each. Stop there.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, give me honest hands, one to set down what was never mine, one to own what was. Hold the rest. Amen.

I can tell the truth about what was done to me and what I did, and still be held.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

WARFARE · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

"...for the accuser of our brothers has been thrown down, who accuses them day and night before our God."

REVELATION 12:10 · ESV

Accusation is one of the enemy's oldest tools: a running commentary that uses your own voice. You are a bad mother. You always ruin it. They would be better off. Conviction sounds different. It names one specific thing, it has a way out, and it moves you toward God and toward the people you hurt. Condemnation names your whole self and offers no door. Learn the difference. It will save you years.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What sentence about myself do I hear most often, especially about mothering?

2. Is it specific with a way out, or sweeping with no exit?

3. What would Jesus say to that sentence?

SOFT ACTION

When the sentence shows up today, answer it once with Romans 8:1 and move on. Do not debate it.

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You stand with me, not against me. Give me ears to tell Your conviction from the accuser's noise. Amen.

Conviction gives me a door. Condemnation does not come from God.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

CHILDHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Look around until your eyes find the exit. You can leave if you need to. God, I am here. You are here. That is enough to start.

"You have kept count of my tossings; put my tears in your bottle. Are they not in your book?"

PSALM 56:8 · ESV

Fight, flight, freeze, and fawn were not character flaws. They were what a small body did to stay alive in a house that was not safe. If your body still scans every room, startles at doors, or goes blank when someone raises their voice, it is doing a job it learned young. That is not weak faith. It also is not always discernment. Some of what feels like warfare is a nervous system still on night duty. God keeps count of every tear, and He is not angry at the body that protected you.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

1. Which survival response do I default to: fight, flight, freeze, or fawn?

Put a hand on the place where you feel it most. Say, "You kept me alive. You can rest now."

God, You saw every night and every tear. Thank You for the body that kept me alive. Teach it that it does not have to stand guard alone. Amen.

My body is not broken. It is remembering, and it can learn a new rhythm.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

CHILDHOOD · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Press your palms together, then let go. Jesus, You are bigger than what I am about to read.

"As one whom his mother comforts, so I will comfort you; you shall be comforted in Jerusalem."

ISAIAH 66:13 · ESV

Trauma has an age. When you are triggered, you may be thirty-five in the room and six in the body. This matters in motherhood, because your child turning the age you were when you were hurt can bring the old fear roaring back. The answer is not to scold the small part of you. It is to comfort her the way you needed to be comforted, and to let God be the Comforter first. He compares His own comfort to a mother's.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. How old does the fear in my body feel?

2. What did that age of me need and not get?

3. What would I say to her now?

SOFT ACTION

Write a three-line note to her. Begin: "I see you. You are not alone. Here is what is true now..."

SUPPLICATION

Father, You comfort like a mother. Come to the little girl in me, and teach me to be gentle with her. Amen.

I can comfort the child I was without handing her fear to the child I am raising.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

WARFARE · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Sit with your back against something solid. Lord, You were here before I said anything.

PSALM 46:10 · ESV

A body that is flooded cannot discern anything. Before you ask whether something is spiritual, calm the alarm. Breathe in four, hold seven, out eight. Name five things you see. Cold water on the wrists. Look at every corner of the room until your eyes find the exit. Push the wall for ten seconds. Say, "This is memory, not danger." These are not a replacement for prayer. They are what makes it possible to pray when the baby is crying and your chest is on fire.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which reset helps me most right now?

2. When during my day do I most need it?

3. What gets in the way, and what is one small adjustment?

SOFT ACTION

Pick one reset and practice it three times today before you need it, once at a calm moment.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, I do not have to fight with a racing heart. Slow me down and be near. Amen.

I have tools. I am not at the mercy of my own alarm.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

CHILDHOOD · ADDICTION · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Take a slow sip of water. Jesus, I do not have to perform for You.

"Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts! And see if there is any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!"

PSALM 139:23-24 · ESV

You cannot work with what you will not name. Today you list the three fronts, not the stories, just the titles. Childhood: what happened. Addiction: what you used and what it did. Motherhood: the pain and the hope in it, whether you are raising children, grieving them, hoping for them, or healing from your own mother. Ten lines, no details. Then circle the one you skipped. That is where the work is, and we are coming back to it slowly.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What are the main titles under childhood?

2. What are the main titles under addiction and motherhood?

3. Which one did I skip, and what am I afraid will happen if I name it?

SOFT ACTION

Write your list on the lines. Circle the skipped one. Do not write about it yet.

SUPPLICATION

God, search me, not to punish me but to lead me. Show me where to start, and not more than I can hold. Amen.

Naming it is the beginning of the end of its power over me.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

WARFARE · ADDICTION · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Feel your feet on the floor. Keep your eyes open. Father, meet me exactly where I am.

JEREMIAH 8:22 · ESV

Before you decide something is demonic, ask a doctor. Postpartum depression, panic, PTSD, thyroid problems, sleep deprivation, and withdrawal can all feel like attack. Binding a spirit that was a vitamin deficiency will exhaust you and then convince you God does not answer. If you are physically dependent on alcohol, benzodiazepines, or barbiturates, withdrawal can be deadly, so do not stop alone. Prayer and medicine are not enemies. God made doctors too.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

1. What have I been calling spiritual that might also be physical?

2. What appointment have I been avoiding, and why?

3. Who could go with me or watch my kids while I go?

Make the call or book the appointment today. If you are in crisis, call or text 988.

Lord, You made bodies and You made healers. Give me the courage to ask for help and the humility to take it.
Amen.

Treating my body is not a lack of faith. It is stewardship.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

A Date and a Plan

ADDICTION · MOTHERHOOD

Pairs with Journal Day 10: The Date · Coming Home Day 10: Set the Ground Rules · Also read Workbook Part V Step 3 | Vol. II Step 21,

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Hold something warm or cold in your hands for a minute. Holy Spirit, stay near, and do not let me go further than I can hold.

"Ponder the path of your feet; then all your ways will be sure."

PROVERBS 4:26 · ESV

WHAT THIS MEANS

Someday is a comfortable word. A date is a decision. If you are ready to stop using, pick the date, clear the first seventy-two hours, remove what needs removing, and tell three people. For mothers, add the practical layer: who has the kids, where is the safe place if home is not safe, what are the legal and child-welfare realities, and what help exists (a legal aid office, a social worker, a treatment program that welcomes mothers and children). Fear of losing your kids is real. Hiding usually makes it worse, and support usually helps.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What date am I willing to write down?

2. Who are the three people I will tell?

3. What practical pieces (childcare, safe housing, legal help) need to be lined up first?

SOFT ACTION

Write the date. Write three names. If a medical detox is needed, call SAMHSA at 1-800-662-4357 before the date.

SUPPLICATION

Father, I am tired of someday. Give me a date, a plan, and people. Hold my children while I do this. Amen.

I am not waiting for someday. I am choosing a day.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

ARC 2 · DAYS 11–20

The Lies and the Names

Lies, names, and a mother's moral injury.

THE HOLY R3UP · NINETY DAYS OF STANDING

CHILDHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

"...and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

JOHN 8:32 · ESV

Trauma does not just hurt. It teaches. It was my fault. I am too much. Love costs. Safe is boring. I only matter when I am useful. Those lessons were installed when you were small, and you may be passing them down without saying a word. A child watches how you treat yourself. The work is not to hate the lessons but to notice them, so you stop living by house rules from a house that burned down.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What are the three lies I live by most?

2. Where did I learn each one?

3. Which one might my kids be learning from me?

SOFT ACTION

Underline the lie that frightens you most. Next to it write, "I was taught this. I can unlearn it."

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You are the truth. Show me the lies I took on, and replace them with what is real. Amen.

I was taught these under pressure. I am allowed to unlearn them.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

MOTHERHOOD · WARFARE

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

"For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ,"

WHAT THIS MEANS

Paul's weapons here are not shouting or rituals. They are truth, arguments answered, thoughts brought to Christ. Take the loudest lie about your mothering, such as my kids would be better off without me. Ask who taught it. What evidence have you used to keep believing it? Make yourself find one piece of evidence against it. Then write the truth you choose instead. Do not give the Sunday School answer. Give the real one.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Lie one, in the words I actually say to myself:

2. One piece of evidence against it:

3. The truth I am standing on instead, and who in Scripture says it:

SOFT ACTION

Say the truth out loud to the mirror once today. It will feel awkward. Do it anyway.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, I bring this thought to You instead of agreeing with it. Teach me what is true. Amen.

I am not arguing with a lie. I am replacing it.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

CHILDHOOD · ADDICTION · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Look around until your eyes find the exit. You can leave if you need to. Lord, You were here before I said anything.

ISAIAH 43:1 • FSV

Somebody named you and you answered. Too much. Not enough. The family's problem. Addict. Bad mother. Runaway. A name given in someone's worst moment can follow you for decades. God gives names too, and He gives them in love. Whatever you answer to will run your life, so it is worth asking who gave it to you and whether they had the right.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which name have I answered to longest?

2. Who gave it to me, and what were they like when they said it?

3. Does God agree with it?

SOFT ACTION

Write the old name on a slip of paper. Do not tear it up yet. Just see it from the outside.

SUPPLICATION

Father, You called me by name before anyone else did. Help me hear Yours louder than theirs. Amen.

I belong to God. My name is not the worst thing that was said about me.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

WARFARE · MOTHERHOOD · CHILDHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Press your palms together, then let go. Jesus, I do not have to perform for You.

REVELATION 2:17 · ESV

Scripture is full of people renamed: Abram to Abraham, Jacob to Israel, Simon to Peter. God's names point at who you are becoming, not who you were at your worst. Trading names is not positive thinking. It is putting a new truth in the place the old one occupied. Too much becomes chosen and beloved. Damaged goods becomes new creation. Bad mother becomes a mother who is learning, with help. Say the new one aloud each morning for thirty days.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. The name I am putting down:

2. The name I am choosing, and where it is written in Scripture:

3. Who will help me remember it?

SOFT ACTION

Write the new name where you will see it every morning, like the bathroom mirror or the fridge.

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, I give You the old name. Teach me to answer to the one You give. Amen.

I answer to what God calls me, not what they called me.

"As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him."

PSALM 103:13 · ESV

A child cannot consent. A person being coerced is not choosing. A person in survival is not strategizing. Your body responding physically was never agreement. Shame built a city on that lie. Notice that God does not meet you with a lecture. He shows compassion the way a father does for his child. Take your name off a crime you did not commit.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What am I still blaming myself for that was never a choice?

2. How old was I?

3. What would I say to a child who told me this story?

SOFT ACTION

Say it as if you were speaking to a child you love: "It was not your fault." Then say it to yourself.

SUPPLICATION

Father, You are not angry at the child I was. Take the blame I put on her, and give her compassion. Amen.

I am taking my name off a crime I did not commit.

☐ I said it. I wrote it. That is enough for today.

Take a slow sip of water. Holy Spirit, stay near, and do not let me go further than I can hold.

LUKE 22:31-32 · ESV

Peter failed and went back. Jesus had already prayed for him and already named what came after: when you have turned again. Why you went back to the substance, to the person, to the house is not stupidity. It was familiar, it worked, you had no options, you loved them, or you thought it was for the kids. Most people try more than once. Going back is not the end of the story. The turning again is.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What did I go back to, and what did it give me?

2. What stopped me from leaving earlier?

3. What do I believe Jesus prayed for me?

SOFT ACTION

Write, "I went back because..." with no excuses and no punishments. Then write, "And I am turning again."

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You prayed for Peter before he fell. Pray for me now. Strengthen me for the turning. Amen.

I was in a trap built to hold. Leaving late is still leaving.

PSALM 107:9 · ESV

You can miss the person who hurt you. You can miss the high. You can even miss the version of home that was chaos, because it was yours. Cruelty and tenderness on an unpredictable schedule bond people harder than steady kindness. It is the same pull as a slot machine. Missing is not evidence you should go back. It is evidence that something in you is still hungry, and God fills the hungry.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I actually miss, the person, or the relief between the harm?

2. What hunger is under it?

3. What is one safe thing that could feed that hunger today?

SOFT ACTION

When the missing hits, name it: "This is hunger, not a sign." Then eat, drink water, and call a safe person.

SUPPLICATION

God, I am hungry and I am tired of feeding it with what hurts. Fill the place only You can fill. Amen.

What I feel is real. It is not a reason to go back.

"even the darkness is not dark to you; the night is bright as the day, for darkness is as light with you."

PSALM 139:12 · ESV

Many survivors have holes: parts of childhood they cannot remember, or years of their own children's lives lost in a fog of use or numbness. The gaps are not proof you are lying, or that you were not there. They are what a mind does to survive. Do not force memory. A trauma-informed counselor can help you go slowly. God sees the parts you cannot, and the grief of missing them is real and welcome.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I wish I remembered, or wish I could get back?

2. What does it feel like to grieve it?

3. What do I need to stop demanding of my own memory?

SOFT ACTION

Gather three things you do remember from your child's life, or your own, and write them down as a small gift.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, the dark is not dark to You. Hold what I cannot hold. Give me grace for the gaps. Amen.

I do not need perfect memory to tell the truth or to be loved.

"The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the foremost."

1 TIMOTHY 1:15 · ESV

Some of you are not haunted only by what was done to you. You are haunted by what you did while surviving: the nights you were not there, the things you said, the people you brought around your children. That is moral injury, and it is real. It is also not unforgivable. Paul called himself the foremost of sinners and God used him anyway. Forgiveness from God is complete. Repair with people is a separate road, and the next day takes it up.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What did I do that I cannot reconcile with who I wanted to be?

2. Who did it hurt?

3. What part of this is guilt I can bring to Jesus, and what part is shame that lies?

SOFT ACTION

Write it in one line. Then write beneath it, "Jesus came for people like me."

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You came for sinners, and I am one. Take what I cannot carry, and lead me to repair what I can. Amen.

I did that. It was mine. Jesus paid for it. I stop punishing someone He pardoned.

Put a hand on your chest and let one long breath out. Jesus, I do not have to perform for You.

PROVERBS 28:13 · ESV

When you cannot undo the harm, you live differently where the harm lives. With children, amends are mostly shown, not demanded: showing up when you said you would, telling the truth at their level, not asking them to take care of your feelings, and not requiring their forgiveness. A short, age-appropriate acknowledgment can help (I am sorry I wasn't there; it was not your fault; I am getting help). Then let your consistency speak. Where a person is gone or contact is unsafe, serve where that damage lives.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Who needs repair from me, and what would honest repair look like for them?

2. What is the risk of asking for forgiveness too soon?

3. What is one reliable thing I can show up for this week?

SOFT ACTION

Choose one promise you can keep this week, however small, and keep it.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, make me someone who shows up. Where I cannot repair, use me where the damage lives. Amen.

I make amends by becoming someone who does not do that anymore.

THE HOLY R3UP · NINETY DAYS OF STANDING

WARFARE · MOTHERHOOD

SANCTUARY · OPTIONAL

Look around until your eyes find the exit. You can leave if you need to. Father, meet me exactly where I am.

2 CORINTHIANS 4:18 · ESV

Spiritual warfare is not only for conferences. The unseen realm meets us at the kitchen table: in what we believe about ourselves, in the tone we use with children, in the cravings at 4 p.m., in how we treat the one who irritates us most. Scripture treats the unseen opposition as real and limited, and treats ordinary faithfulness as how we stand. You are not imagining the fight, and you do not have to make it dramatic. You have to show up, tell the truth, and keep Jesus near.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Where do I notice the fight in ordinary moments of my day?

2. What has been "just my personality" that might be something else?

3. How could I meet it with something simple?

SOFT ACTION

Pick one ordinary moment today (making breakfast, driving, folding laundry) and pray one sentence in it.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, You are at my table. Teach me to see what is going on beneath the noise, and to stand there with You. Amen.

I am not imagining what I have been through. And I am not fighting it alone.

"but test everything; hold fast what is good."

WHAT THIS MEANS

When something is tormenting you, sort it. What part is body and chemistry? What part is wound? What part is flesh, your untrained appetite, which needs discipline, not deliverance? What part might be spiritual? Now you have four assignments instead of one impossible one. If it is a child who is struggling, begin with doctors, teachers, counselors, and love. Do not label a child demonic. Warfare for a mother mostly looks like sleep, safety, honesty, and prayer.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What is tormenting me most right now?

2. How would I sort it: body, wound, flesh, spirit?

3. Who could help me with each part?

SOFT ACTION

Fill in the four categories on a page for one problem. Do one small thing under each.

SUPPLICATION

God, give me discernment instead of panic. Teach me to fight the right thing the right way. Amen.

Discernment is not doubt. It is how I stop fighting the wrong thing.

"Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world."

1 JOHN 4:4 · ESV

Fear sells. The enemy is a created being, not God's opposite. He is not everywhere, he cannot read your mind (only God knows the heart), he cannot make you do anything, and he cannot snatch you from God's hand. Scripture promises that God keeps those who are His (John 10:28-29; 1 John 5:18). It does not promise that nothing bad will ever happen to your children, and I will not pretend it does. It does tell you that you are not facing it unprotected or alone.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Where has fear for my children or myself been louder than truth?

2. What do I believe about what the enemy can do?

3. What is God asking me to trust Him with?

SOFT ACTION

Write one fear for your children. Hand it to God in one sentence: "This is Yours."

SUPPLICATION

Some struggles keep getting fed by the same things: unforgiveness, a lie about yourself, anger left to rot, old vows, substances, patterns you inherited. Paul says anger is not the problem. Holding it past sundown gives the enemy room. For mothers, this is the rage at a child that is really old rage at someone else. Naming what feeds it is not shame. It is how you stop feeding it.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I keep feeding, knowingly or not?

2. Where does my anger really belong?

3. What would starving it look like?

SOFT ACTION

Name the feeding source in one line. Take one small step to stop feeding it today.

SUPPLICATION

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Where do I run first when I am afraid?

2. What would it mean to run to God first?

3. What do I want covered today?

You can forgive someone and still keep them away from your children. Reconciliation needs two people and real repentance. Where someone has harmed you or could harm a child, safety decides access, not guilt or family pressure. Jesus withdrew often, and Paul named people and told others to avoid them. If there is a custody or contact question, a legal aid office, a domestic violence advocate, or a social worker can help you think it through. This is not unforgiveness. It is wisdom.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

2. What does safety actually require right now?

3. Who can help me hold the line?

Thirty seconds, out loud, before the day puts anything on you. Truth: I will not lie to myself today. Righteousness: I am covered by His, not mine. Peace: I bring it into rooms, I do not take chaos from them. Faith, salvation, the Word, prayer (Ephesians 6:16-18). Notice there is no armor for the back. We are built to stand, not to run. It fits at a counter with a coffee as well as in a prayer closet.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which piece of armor do I forget most?

3. How could this fit into my actual morning?

SOFT ACTION

THE HOLY R3UP · NINETY DAYS OF STANDING

Sit with your back against something solid. Lord, You were here before I said anything.

COLLOSSIANS 2:14 · FSV

Scripture uses the language of debts and records, and says Christ canceled the record that stood against us. This book uses a courtroom picture for the vows, beliefs, and agreements people make in pain: not as a formula, but as a way to see that what you agreed to as a frightened child does not have to keep running your adult life. Christians hold different views on how literally to take the picture. What is clear is that Jesus came to set captives free, and you are allowed to look honestly at what you have been living by.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I suspect I agreed to when I was small or hurting?

2. How has it been running my life, my choices, my parenting?

3. What is it like to think it does not get the final word?

SOFT ACTION

Write one agreement you suspect you made, in the words you think you would have used.

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You carried the record that stood against me. Show me what I agreed to in pain, and show me what You say instead. Amen.

MATTHEW 5:37 · ESV

Somewhere around eight or nine, a lot of us made a rule to survive. I will never need anyone. I will never cry again. I will never be like my mother. It worked then. It may be running your adult life now, and it can be the reason you cannot let anyone hold you. Even a vow made to be the opposite of someone can bind you to them, because you are still living in reaction. Jesus told us to stop swearing oaths. Not because He is harsh, but because He knows vows made in fear are heavy.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What rule did I make to stay alive?

2. How old was I, and what was happening?

3. What is it costing me now, especially with the people I love?

SOFT ACTION

Write the vow in the exact words you remember. Under it, write what it protected you from.

SUPPLICATION

God, a child made that promise because she had to. Thank You that she survived. Show me what it is costing now. Amen.

It kept me alive. It does not get to run me.

MARK 10:14 · ESV

Jesus welcomed children and did not make them earn it. When you find the vow, speak to the child who made it, not to scold her but to release her. You can say: I see you. You made that promise because you had to, and it worked. I am the adult now. You do not have to hold the door anymore. Then, in Jesus' name, release the vow and replace it with something true: I can let safe people in. I can feel and still be okay. I can want things. A mother who learns this teaches her children it, too.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What would I say to the child who made the vow?

2. What new, true sentence do I want to live by?

3. Who could witness me saying it out loud?

SOFT ACTION

Say the release aloud, in your own words, and then say your new sentence three times.

EPHESIANS 4:29 · ESV

Words matter. Proverbs 18:21 says life and death are in the power of the tongue. Many of us can still hear what was said over us: you will never amount to anything, you are just like your father. And many of us have said things to our own children in the worst hour that we would give anything to take back. You cannot unsay them, but you can repair them. Apologize plainly. Say something truer. Then keep saying it. Words can wound, and words can bless.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What was said over me that I still hear?

2. What have I said to my kids, or someone I love, that I wish I could unsay?

3. What truer thing can I say, and to whom?

PSALM 34:5 · ESV

Shame is not the same as guilt. Guilt says I did something wrong. Shame says I am something wrong. Shame hides, and the hiding feeds it. A mother's shame is especially loud, because the culture around us has a thousand rules for a good mother and she has broken them all in her own mind. Safe light is what shame cannot stand. That means looking toward Him, not at your reflection in other people's faces.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I feel most ashamed of as a woman or mother?

2. Who taught me this shame?

3. What does it look like to look toward Jesus instead of toward their opinion?

"But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him."

1 CORINTHIANS 6:17 · ESV

"Soul tie" is not a phrase found in Scripture. It is a name many believers use for a real experience: someone you barely knew, or someone who harmed you, still has a hold on your thoughts. Scripture does say sexual union joins two people in a real way (1 Corinthians 6:16). What was taken from you was a wrong done to you, not a sin you committed. And for mothers there is a layer: the father of your child, or the person you use with, may still be in your life. Being joined to the Lord is the tie that holds.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Who still has a hold on my mind or body?

2. Is this person tied to my children, my housing, my money, or my recovery?

3. What would a healthier connection to them look like, if any?

You can release your hold on a person and ask God to loosen their hold on you. Hand back what is theirs: the shame, the blame, the voice in your head, their version of you. Take back what is yours: your body, your mind, your peace, your future. If you share children with this person, the release is internal and the practical is separate: a clear parenting plan, communication in writing, and an advocate or attorney if safety is a concern. Pressing forward is not pretending. It is a direction.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What am I handing back today?

2. What am I taking back?

3. If there is a shared child, what practical structure would protect them and me?

JEREMIAH 2:13 · ESV

Every addiction promised something real: peace, escape, belonging, courage, rest. Those are good things, and only God gives them without charging interest. The cistern is not the sin. Digging your own is. This is not an insult. It is the most honest question there is: what was it giving me that I could not get anywhere else? If you can answer that, you can find a legitimate source for the need. You cannot rebuke a habit you keep feeding. Some things are crucified, not cast out.

SACRED REFLECTION

LUKE 10:41-42 · ESV

WHAT THIS MEANS

I only matter when I am useful. So you produce, you carry, you fix, you serve, and you cannot stop. Jesus did not shame Martha. He named what she was carrying and invited her to sit. For a mother who learned love was payment for labor, rest feels like disappearing. Test it honestly: who are you when you produce nothing?

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Who am I when I am not useful to anyone?

2. Where do I feel guilty when I rest?

3. What would it mean to be loved at rest?

SOFT ACTION

Do ten minutes of nothing useful today. Notice what comes up. Do not fix it.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, I am anxious about many things. Let me sit at Your feet for a minute without earning it. Amen.

I am loved at rest. My worth was never output.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. How do I still punish myself?

2. What am I paying for?

3. What would accepting grace cost me, and what would it give?

And behold, an angel touched him and said to him, "Arise and eat."

1 KINGS 19:4-5 · ESV

WHAT THIS MEANS

A death wish is a symptom, not a sin, and not a truth. Elijah, Jonah, Job, and Moses all asked to die, and God's answer to Elijah was food, sleep, a whisper, and a new job, not a rebuke. Mothers in particular can slide into the lie that the kids would be better off. They would not. If that thought has teeth today, call or text 988, or 911, before you read another word. EZEKIEL 18:20 · ESV

Guilt does not transfer. Your children are not guilty of your past, and you are not guilty of your parents'. But terrain does: patterns, wounds, habits, biology, poverty, silence. You did not inherit their sin. You inherited the ground it was committed on. Exodus 20:5 says consequences reach down generations, and Ezekiel 18 says each person answers for their own. The same Bible says God's steadfast love reaches thousands. Do not let anyone tell you your child is cursed because of what you did. Do tell the truth about the terrain.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What has run in my family for three generations or more?

2. Where do I see it in how I parent or want to parent?

3. What would it mean to see my children as not guilty of any of it?

SOFT ACTION

Write one pattern that has run in your family, and one way you are interrupting it.

SUPPLICATION

Father, I cannot change what I inherited, but I can walk differently. Meet my children where I could not. Amen.

I did not inherit guilt. I inherited a terrain, and I can change what grows on it.

Draw it. Three or four generations, both sides. Mark the patterns: addiction, abuse, suicide, early death, mental illness, poverty, abandonment, incarceration, silence. Then notice which columns have marks in three or more generations. This is not to blame your family. It is to see clearly, and to also see the good: faith, resilience, a grandmother who prayed. The same line that carried the pain carries gifts, and you get to choose what to pass on.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What patterns do I see?

2. What good has also come down my line?

3. What do I want my children's story to include?

"Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect."

ROMANS 12:2 · ESV

A pattern can travel four ways. Behavioral: kids learn what they see. Biological: severe stress can shape how bodies respond, and scientists are still learning how. Systemic: poverty, incarceration, and lack of support are real walls. Spiritual: Scripture speaks of the enemy and of unhealed wounds, and Christians differ on how to understand this layer. Most people fight one layer and wonder why it did not hold. Work all four: practice new behavior, protect sleep and health, build support and use resources, and bring it to God.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which layer have I been ignoring?

2. What is one small action for each layer?

3. Who could help with the one I cannot reach alone?

SOFT ACTION

Write the four layers and one action for each, small enough to do this week.

SUPPLICATION

For each pattern, ask where it may have started. What did somebody in your line do? What was said over a child? What was done to your family: displacement, loss, a family destroyed? What secret does the family keep? You will not always find an answer, and you are not required to. Some of this is inference. Hold it with humility, and do not make it a diagnosis of any person. Naming a beginning often takes some of the weight off. Secrets grow in the dark.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What pattern do I most want to understand?

2. What do I know about where it began?

3. What do I not know, and can I let that be?

SOFT ACTION

Write one possible starting place for one pattern. Label it "maybe."

NEHEMIAH 1:6 · ESV

Nehemiah prayed for his people with the words we have sinned, including himself. Daniel did too (Daniel 9). Many believers find this meaningful for family patterns: you do not take on their guilt, you agree with God about what is true, and you ask for mercy on your line. It is a practice to consider, not a requirement for freedom or a magic formula. If it does not sit right, skip it and talk to a pastor you trust. Mothers often do this naturally: praying for their children, their parents, and themselves in one breath.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which pattern would I bring to God by name?

2. What would it be like to pray it without defending anyone?

3. What do I want to ask God for my children?

SOFT ACTION

Pray for one pattern in your family in your own words, with no one else listening.

SUPPLICATION

Before any prayer about a family line, remember who is being prayed to: merciful, gracious, slow to anger, abounding in steadfast love. Pray it specifically, one pattern at a time: Father, I confess that ___ has run in my family. I do not defend it or hide it. I bring every vow, oath, and harsh word made in my family line to the cross of Christ, and I ask You to cancel its hold. Place my children and my family under Your protection. Do not let this pass on to them. Nothing here guarantees an outcome. It hands the outcome to the One who is merciful.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which pattern am I praying over today?

2. What do I want God to do for my children?

3. What am I willing to do differently in response?

SOFT ACTION

Pray the prayer once for one pattern. Write the date.

PROVERBS 26:2 · ESV

It is just how we are. Everybody in my family is like this. We die young. We do not do money. Nobody stays married. We say these like fate, and children hear them as fate. That is not prophecy. It is a pattern, and patterns can end. Proverbs 26:2 says a causeless curse does not land. Even more, Christ has redeemed us (Galatians 3:13, which speaks of the curse of the law; applying it to family patterns is a practical application, not the verse's direct subject). Watch the sentences you say over yourself and over your kids.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Which of these sentences do I say?

2. Which have my children heard from me?

3. What truer sentence could replace each?

SOFT ACTION

You can renounce a pattern perfectly and still repeat it, because nobody ever taught you something different. Prayer closes a door. Practice builds a house. If you grew up with yelling, you may have to learn calm like a second language. Name the inherited behavior and the concrete replacement. Find someone who does the thing you never saw, such as a parenting class, a therapist, a mentor, or a friend with a steady house, and get close enough to watch. Practice badly on purpose, because practicing badly is how it is learned.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

You can honor your parents and refuse their pattern. Honor is not obedience, agreement, access, or silence. It means you do not degrade them, you do not build your identity on hating them, and you do not hand them your life as payment. If your mother harmed you, honoring may look like praying for her from a distance, speaking of her truthfully, and keeping safe boundaries. It is not betrayal to be the one who stopped it.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What can I genuinely honor about where I come from?

2. What am I refusing to carry forward?

3. What boundary protects both me and my children?

2 CORINTHIANS 2:11 · ESV

Volume II lays out twelve patterns that show up in the lives of people who have been hurt and stuck: being unwanted, early wounds, a false name, isolation, a coping tool, a shame loop, agreements, normalizing, passing it on, derailing the calling, waiting too long, silencing the story. This is a pattern-recognition tool, not a revealed schedule. Scripture also says much of our trouble comes from our own hearts, other people, and a broken world. Use it to notice, not to decide every hard thing was a scripted attack, and never to blame yourself for what was done to you.

SACRED REFLECTION

Isolation makes almost every harm worse. Abusers isolate. Addiction isolates. Early motherhood isolates, and shame isolates most of all. This is why you need five kinds of people, not one: the one who knows everything, the one further ahead, the one behind you, the one who is just a friend, and the one allowed to correct you. For a mother in recovery, a meeting, a church small group, a moms' group, or a counselor can be the first of these.

Relapse is never one moment. It is a chain with six to ten links: the setting, the emotional state, the body, the thought, the justification, the first action, the point of no return, the use, the aftermath. For a mother, the links often include exhaustion, a child's meltdown, no support, and the thought, I just need a minute. Circle link three or four. PROVERBS 4:23 · ESV

Boundaries that exist only in your heart are wishes. Block the number. Change the lock. Tell the relative who relays messages to stop. Decide in advance what you will do when they reach out, because they usually do right when you get peaceful. For mothers, this includes who can be near your children, who can pick them up, and what phones and screens are in the house. A boundary is a property line, not a punishment, and you do not have to explain it forty times.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What boundary do I need to set?

2. How will I enforce it this week?

3. What will I do when they push back?

SOFT ACTION

Set one real-world boundary today. Write the exact sentence you will use.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, give me a firm yes and a firm no, and keep my heart open to those who are safe. Amen.

I am not explaining it forty times. It is a property line.

MICAH 7:8 · ESV

Having a plan is not permission. Not having one gives the fall a runway. Stop at the first one. The fall is the first act, the ruin is the decision afterward. Tell someone within the hour. Make sure your children are safe and supervised. Have naloxone in the house if opioids are in your history, and tell a person who can help. Do not throw away ninety days over one day. Then find the link you missed and write it down. Kids can handle an honest, age-appropriate truth better than a cover story.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What is my written plan for the day I fall?

2. Who will care for my children if I cannot?

3. What will I say to them, and when?

SOFT ACTION

Write the plan and share it with one person. Keep a copy on the fridge or in your phone.

SUPPLICATION

Lord, when I fall, You are my light. Give me someone to call, and keep my children safe. Amen.

The identity is in the rising, not in never falling.

2. What do I feel when I imagine Him in that room?

3. What do I want to say to Him?

SOFT ACTION

Say aloud, "You saw me." Sit with whatever comes.

"Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should have no compassion on the son of her womb? Even these may forget, yet I will not forget you."

WHAT THIS MEANS

Whoever you are asking for, yourself or your child, the question is the same. God made a world with real agency, because love that cannot be refused is not love. That means people can choose evil, and He does not routinely override the will He gave. He did not cause it, want it, or approve it. He hated it. That is an explanation, not a comfort, and I will not pretend it is the same. But notice how He answers in this verse: with a mother's love as His comparison, and a promise that He does not forget.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I most need to ask Him?

2. What do I do with the part that has no answer?

3. How does it feel to hear Him compare Himself to a mother?

SOFT ACTION

"Jesus answered, 'It was not that this man sinned, or his parents, but that the works of God might be displayed in him.'"

JOHN 9:3 • FSV

The disciples asked whose sin caused a man's blindness, and Jesus rejected the whole premise. If your child struggles with health, learning, mental health, or addiction, it is not the sentence for your past. If your own suffering feels like punishment, it is not. Jesus paid the bill and God does not double-bill. Grief is not proof of a curse, and hardship is not a verdict.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What have I secretly believed I was being punished for?

2. Where have I connected my child's pain to my past?

3. What would it mean to let that go?

SOFT ACTION

Write the sentence you believe, then cross it out and write, "This is not punishment."

SUPPLICATION

Jesus, You refused the lie that suffering is always a sentence. Take mine and my children's out of that frame. Amen.

He is not punishing me. There is no condemnation.

Take a slow sip of water. Jesus, You are bigger than what I am about to read.

PSALM 13:1-2 · ESV

Scripture preserves complaints. Jesus quoted a psalm of abandonment from the cross. Job accused God and God said Job had spoken rightly of Him. Lamentations is grief laid out before God, and God kept it in the canon. He can handle your rage. What He cannot work with is your distance. Say it to Him directly. Mothers who have buried a child, lost custody, or watched a child suffer have every right to this psalm.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What have I never said to God directly?

2. What am I afraid will happen if I do?

3. What would it look like to say it today?

SOFT ACTION

Write or say it to God, unedited, for two minutes.

SUPPLICATION

God, here it is, all of it. I am bringing it to You instead of holding it against You. Amen.

I bring it to Him instead of holding it against Him.

WHAT THIS MEANS

As long as you hold a verdict against God, you cannot receive from Him. You do not have to stop having questions. You have to stop having a verdict. And handing over your case against the people who hurt you is not letting them off. It is God taking a weight that was killing you. He is the judge, and He sees everything, including what never reached a human court. Some people never face anything on earth. That is not the end of the story.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What verdict am I carrying against God?

2. What case am I carrying against someone else?

3. What would it feel like to hand each to Him?

SOFT ACTION

Write "I withdraw the verdict" beside the one you are ready to put down.

LAMENTATIONS 3:26 · ESV

Elijah was suicidal and looked for God in wind, earthquake, and fire, and God came in a thin silence, after He fed him and let him sleep twice. Food, sleep, then the whisper. Sometimes the silence is not rejection. Sometimes you are exhausted and He is feeding you first. A mother in a dry season may have no energy for a long quiet time, and that is okay. A few honest sentences are prayer.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Have I been asking for a whisper when I need food and sleep?

2. What would feed me today?

3. What is one small way to wait?

SOFT ACTION

Eat something and rest for ten minutes, even if just sitting. Then pray one sentence.

Noise was safety. If it was quiet, you could hear them coming, and you had to feel it. So silence may feel like danger before it feels like peace. Start with two minutes. Eyes open if closed feels unsafe. When your mind runs, say later and come back. The coming back is the prayer. In a house with children, quiet may be five minutes in a bathroom, in the car, or while the baby sleeps. Take it. It counts.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

SACRED REFLECTION

1. How long did I sit, and what came up?

2. What does silence feel like in my body?

3. Where is a safe place I can practice?

SOFT ACTION

It is not a promise that your story will have a satisfying plot, and it is not meant to be said to someone in fresh grief. It is a promise that nothing in your story, including what happened in your childhood, your addiction, or your mothering, is unusable in His hands. It was not good. It will not be wasted. Those are different things.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What do I need Him to use rather than explain?

2. What have I been tempted to call good that was not?

3. What do I hope He will redeem?

SOFT ACTION

Write one thing that was not good, and one thing you are asking Him not to waste.

You were their sister, their mother, their friend. You lost them because addiction is lethal, because they were sick, and because the world they were in was built to fail people like them. None of those were yours to control. This page is for Brandi, or whoever you are carrying. Grief is allowed here.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. What did I do for them?

2. What do I keep telling myself I should have done?

3. Was it truly in my power at that time?

I am not God, and I will not pretend to know where she is. But addiction is not the unforgivable sin, God judges the heart and not the manner of death (1 Samuel 16:7), and Romans 8:38-39 lists death first among the things that cannot separate us from His love. A cry does not have to be eloquent: the thief on the cross got one sentence (Luke 23:42-43). You can hope, legitimately, without lying to yourself. Hope is not certainty, and you do not need certainty to stop tormenting yourself.

SACRED REFLECTION

1. Can I hope without needing to know?

2. What does it feel like to place them in God's hands?

3. What would help me leave them there?

For a mother, this includes the grief of missed milestones, a child who is gone or estranged, or the childhood you never had.

WHAT STOOD OUT TO ME

JEREMIAH 31:16-17 · ESV

Some of you are mothers whose children are removed, estranged, grown and angry, or lost to addiction. You cannot make them come back, and you cannot force forgiveness. What you can do is stay safe, stay consistent, keep an open door and a clear boundary, send simple messages that ask nothing, and trust God with what you cannot reach. This verse is an ancient promise to a nation, and many mothers have held it. It is hope, not a guarantee about any one person's choices. Luke 15:20 shows a father who ran when the son was still far off.

WHAT THIS MEANS

God knew you before you were formed, and what was done to you never canceled what He had in mind for you. The same is true of every child. A mother does not manufacture her child's worth, and neither does a mother's failure erase it. I cannot tell you the harm was aimed at your calling. I do not know that. JOHN 15:16 · ESV

Chosen is not a rank. It is an assignment with a destination. Scripture uses the language of being chosen of every believer, not only the dramatic ones. Many people in Scripture were marked early, isolated, delayed, misunderstood, and broken in a specific place before they were used. The cost is real: lost people, delay that looks like denial, being misunderstood by good people. It does not mean God likes you more. Next-Step Challenge

SAY IT OUT LOUD

Go back to Day 1 of this book and the journal and read what you wrote. Then choose one practice (the armor, the craving protocol, the silence, a boundary, a blessing for your children) and keep it for thirty days. Tell one person which one.

MY ONE NEXT STEP

WHO WILL KNOW ABOUT IT, AND BY WHEN?

WHAT WILL I DO IF I MISS A DAY?

Pick the page back up. Missing a day is not failure — the identity is in the rising.

Closing Prayer

PRAYER

Father, thank You for walking with me through these pages. I did not do this perfectly, and You never asked me to. Where I told the truth, thank You for staying. Where I skipped, meet me there with patience. Where I found grief, hold me in it. Where I found anger, let me bring it to You instead of away from You. Give me safe people, good help, and a next step small enough to take. Keep me honest without letting me shame myself. Teach me to tend what You have given me — slowly, the way a vineyard is tended. I belong to You, and I am still building. In Jesus' name. Amen.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Narcan (naloxone) is available without an individual prescription at most pharmacies, and free through many health departments and harm-reduction programs. Keep it in the house even if you do not use. It can reverse an opioid overdose and will not hurt someone who did not take opioids.
- Withdrawal from alcohol, benzodiazepines, and barbiturates can kill you. Do not detox from those alone. That is a medical detox, not a willpower problem. Call SAMHSA or go to an emergency room.
- Numbers and services change. Confirm them before you rely on them.
