Print and bind

Printing and Binding Guide

Open the-90-day-rebuild.pdf and print each volume as a page range. All three start on a front-of-sheet page, so every day lands on two sheets.

Binder	Contents	Print range	Sheets
Volume One	Days 1–45	pages 1–202	101 sheets
Volume Two	Days 46–90 · Begin Again · The Jar · Day 90	pages 203–406	102 sheets
Volume Three	The Reference Library	pages 407–598	96 sheets

DRIVER SETTINGS

- Paper: Letter, 24 lb pre-punched 3-hole · Two-sided, binding edge long edge (left)
- Scale: 100% / Actual size · Color on · Standard quality
- Volume Two begins with the review page for Arc 4 (The Contracts), so you look back before you move on.

COVERS

- Print the three cover pages (pages 1–3 of this file) on 65–80 lb matte white card stock, one side only, through the rear or bypass tray, with paper type set to heavy / cardstock.
- Slide each into the clear front pocket of its binder. A thin white border around the color is normal on office inkjets.

PROTECT THE HOLES

- Put a self-adhesive hole reinforcement ring on each punched hole of the pages you will turn most: the arc dividers, the certificate, the Challenge Jar cards, and the first and last page of every arc. A sheet of 500 costs a few dollars.
- Print the dividers and certificate on 65 lb card stock instead of 24 lb, and punch them with a heavy-duty 3-hole punch.
- Do not overfill: keep each binder under about 80 percent of its ring capacity, and turn pages by the outer edge, not the punched edge.
- For pages you write on heavily, a clear heavy-duty sheet protector with a reinforced edge works too.

BINDERS

- Three 1.5 inch zip binders with a clear front and spine pocket (about 100 sheets per volume, with room for tabs, notes, and the Challenge Jar).
- Tab at each arc divider (the colored pages) in Volumes One and Two, and at each Part and Book in Volume Three.
